DOCTORS WITHOUT BORDERS/MÉDECINS SANS FRONTIÈRES (MSF)

is an independent international medical humanitarian organization that delivers emergency aid to people affected by armed conflict, epidemics, natural and human-made disasters, and exclusion from health care. We are doctors, nurses, logistics experts, administrators, epidemiologists, laboratory technicians, mental health professionals, and many others who work in accordance with MSF's guiding principles of humanitarian action and medical ethics. MSF received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1999.

DEAR FRIENDS,

Every humanitarian emergency demands a specialized response. At Doctors Without Borders/Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF), that means preparing to meet the needs wherever they arise—and adapting our work to tackle new challenges. And 2022 was a year of complex and frequently cascading emergencies that often pushed us to do just that.

This year nearly 68,000 MSF staff members responded to crises in more than 75 countries around the world. In Ukraine, where conflict had been simmering near the border with Russia since 2014, full-scale attacks by Russian forces plunged the country into war on February 22. We rapidly scaled up our humanitarian response, bolstering teams already working on the front lines in eastern Ukraine with additional supplies and personnel. As the conflict intensified, we worked to support the country's beleaguered health system, including by training Ukrainian health care workers—most of whom were working in combat for the first time—to manage mass casualties and care for complex war wounds.

As the number of attacks on Ukrainian health facilities increased, we adapted again to reach people in need and keep our patients and staff as safe as possible. Our teams retrofitted trains to provide medical support to patients as they were moved from hospitals near the front lines to safer facilities in the west of Ukraine. And as thousands fled the indiscriminate bombing, our teams provided health services including psychological first aid to people sheltering in subway stations.

The conflict amplified problems for Ukrainians who were already struggling to access health care. For elderly or disabled people and those living with chronic health conditions like hypertension or diabetes, indiscriminate fighting made it difficult or impossible to reach routine health services and essential medications. In response, MSF mobile clinics brought care closer to patients, and our teams also supported Ukrainian health staff and helped them scale up their work.

Conflict and instability intensified in Haiti as well, where MSF has worked since 1991. Keeping our teams and patients safe and our projects running became increasingly challenging in 2022, as fighting between gangs, civilian self-defense groups, and the police cut off access to entire neighborhoods in the capital of Port-au-Prince. Though the violence forced us to suspend activities at our Drouillard hospital in the Cité Soleil neighborhood of the city several times in 2022, we continued working throughout Port-au-Prince and elsewhere in Haiti, and continuously spoke out about the escalating emergency there.

The fighting and insecurity in Port-au-Prince had cascading effects as well. The widespread violence, coupled with a fuel shortage, made it extremely difficult for people to access health care and safe water, leading to a deadly outbreak of cholera. Meanwhile, the lack of fuel put a huge strain on the city's health facilities, which depend on generators to operate. In response, MSF increased activities, strengthening the capacity of projects and launching a cholera response focused on both treatment and prevention of the waterborne disease.

Haiti was not the only country contending with cholera in 2022—30 countries worldwide reported cases or outbreaks during the year, and MSF responded in many of them. Often these outbreaks were precipitated or exacerbated by conflict, but violence was not the only factor. Natural disasters—particularly those fueled by the effects of climate change—also contributed to the spread of waterborne illnesses and other hardships for people around the world.

In 2022 MSF teams responded to unprecedented flooding in South Sudan, deadly drought in Somalia, and devastating cyclones in the Philippines and Madagascar. And in June, monsoon rains brought catastrophic flooding that left one-third of Pakistan underwater and displaced more than 30 million people, including MSF staff. In all of these contexts, MSF teams responded with medical care for the sick, injured, and displaced—and we raised our voices to speak out about the risks the climate crisis poses to people already living in emergency situations.

We also spoke out about the experiences of our patients and staff in Central America and at the US–Mexico border. For hundreds of thousands of people on the move, inhumane US immigration policies compounded the existing risks of violence and illness on the journey north and for people expelled from the US to dangerous border cities in Mexico. In addition to our advocacy work, MSF teams continued to care for migrants in Mexico and in their countries of origin, providing much needed medical and psychosocial support.

We were able to respond to these and many other cascading humanitarian emergencies around the world because of the steadfast support of donors—and it's because of you that we'll be able to continue to do so for years to come.

Thank you for being a part of our movement, and thank you for trusting us to provide lifesaving medical humanitarian aid wherever it's needed most.

Sincerely yours,

FINANCIAL REPORT

In 2022 MSF teams responded to cascading humanitarian emergencies in more than 75 countries around the world with the support of hundreds of thousands of independent donors.

From escalating conflicts in Ukraine and Haiti to climate shocks in Pakistan and South Sudan and outbreaks of diseases like cholera in Syria and Democratic Republic of Congo, MSF-USA's donors helped us adapt our responses to diverse contexts and bring medical humanitarian aid to the people who needed it most. At the end of 2022, public contributions exceeded $675 million, an increase of more than $51 million compared to 2021.

Our total program expenditures in 2021 were more than $540 million, an increase of more than $27 million over 2021. MSF-USA's largest contributions went to programs in Democratic Republic of Congo [$49 million], Yemen [$42.4 million], South Sudan [$38.5 million], Nigeria [$38.2 million], and Central Africa Republic [$37.8 million].

MSF THANKS OUR LEGACY SOCIETY MEMBERS

By providing for MSF in their estate planning, Legacy Society members help ensure our ability to respond to the challenges we will face in the future. Each year, many of our loyal supporters join our Legacy Society by naming MSF in a will, trust, as a beneficiary of a retirement plan, or by setting up a charitable gift annuity. As a member of our Legacy Society, you will receive updates about our work around the world and have the option to be listed in our Annual Report.

FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT MSF'S PLANNED GIVING PROGRAM, PLEASE SEND US AN EMAIL AT PLANNEDGIVING@NEWYORK.MSF.ORG OR CALL US AT 212-763-5750.
